Page 4, line 2, insert at the end the following: “In using any such amounts, the President shall prioritize the use of such amounts for the following:

(A) The acquisition of sufficient medications and medical supplies for the Strategic National Stockpile, including any items described under paragraph (1) that the President finds appropriate, for the purpose of responding to public health emergencies.

(B) Diversification of the supply chain for medical articles that are necessary to respond to public health emergencies, such that essential components of the supply chain are not under the exclusive control of a foreign government in a manner that the President determines could threaten the national defense of the United States.

(C) If the President determines that appropriate quantities of vaccines to combat the COVID–19 pandemic are available to the United States, support for the distribution of diagnostics, therapeutics, and vaccines in developing countries, as the President determines necessary for developing countries to defend against the pandemic.
